

WHITE WINGS OUT 4,000 STRONG FOR PARADE IN RAIN

Swing Down Fifth Avenue
With Military Precision, Spirits Undaunted.

GAYNOR REVIEWS THEM.

Commissioner Edwards Proud of the Showing—Big Entertainment To-Night.

Through a downpour of rain that would have discouraged the ardor of most men, Father Knickerbocker's White Wings to-day marched down Fifth Avenue from Fifty-ninth street to West Washington Square in their annual parade. The music of nineteen bands and five and drum corps helped to keep the spotlessly arrayed cleaners in military step despite nature's kiljoy from above.

This evening the White Wings and their families will assemble at the Harmon Casino, where a big entertainment will be given. Commissioner Edwards will be in charge of the affair, and will meet the wives and families of the men who keep the big town clean.

Mayor Gaynor and a number of other distinguished citizens turned out to review the street cleaning brigade from the stand erected opposite the New York Library by the street sweepers themselves at a cost of $16, but the Mayor and the guests were sheltered beneath a canopy as the White Wings trudged by.

Nearly four thousand men of the Street Cleaning Department, hundreds of carts drawn by well groomed and sleek horses and a display of street cleaning machinery comprised the parade. There were two other features which attracted attention and aroused interest apart from the general appearance of the men who made an excellent showing.

LITTLE GIRL LEADS DEPART-MENT "MASCOT."

The two additional features were the street cleaning dog mascot, a pure white spaniel led by a little girl in Street Cleaning Department uniform, and a miniature ash cart drawn by a boy who came from Boston to participate in the parade. He is to be a street cleaning commissioner some day and will have a specimen term of his own. He is the son of an actor.

Miss Loraine Carroll, daughter of Joseph Carroll of Fins, Dorset & Carroll, owns the pony—a prize winner. She sat on the reviewing stand with her father and mother as her pet was driven past, and she gracefully acknowledged the salute of the Boston boy.

In addition to Mayor Gaynor, Street Cleaning Commissioner Edwards and staff, heads of city departments, others grouped on the reviewing stand were President Finley of the College of the City of New York, President Hibben of Princeton College, from which institution Mr. Edwards graduated as a champion gridiron performer; Dr. Charles Knapp, Charles Schreiber, George T. Wilson, Col. Appleton, Col. Conley, Major-General O'Rourke, Job Hedges, Adjutant-General Verbeck, Assistant Adjutant-General Frank Landon and a number of women. The latter were most enthusiastic over the presentation of the prizes to the best marchers, the best groomed horses and the best brought turn out. Each brough was represented by a detachment.

TELLS THE MAYOR HOW STAND WAS ERRECTED.

Mounted policemen who headed the parade and cleared a line for the street cleaners saluted the Mayor, who raised his night hat. At this juncture Commissioner Edwards whispered into the ear of the Mayor that his own department men had erected the reviewing stand with their own hands and with department timber, and that the entire cost was only $16. He also pointed out that the Police Department had spent $60 for its grand stand. He said the contractor who built the police stand wanted $400 from the Street Cleaning Department for the use of the police stand, which was to be left standing until to-day.

"But our boys fooled them," said Edwards. "We built the stand ourselves, and ain't it a dandy?"

At the dinner at the Waldorf last night given by the Mayor by department heads Commissioner Edwards distributed white badges as souvenirs for to-day's parade. They were worn by the Mayor and others to-day.

Copious notes were taken by the military juries as the various divisions marched by the grand stand. There were necessary for the purpose of awarding the prizes. These comprised:

Silver shield to the borough which excels in general military appearance and department regulations.

Banner to the borough having the finest appearing horses.

Banner to the borough in which the sweepers present the best appearance.

Following the parade Commissioner Edwards gave a luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria to the military and other guests.

Diamond Prince Left $25,000,000.

LONDON, June 6.—The estate of Sir Julian Charles Wertheimer, late head of the De Beers Diamond Syndicate, was provisionally sworn at $25,000,000 to-day. About $2,500,000 is left to charity instead of $15,000,000, as had been reported. Of this $1,350,000 is given to South Africa for the establishment of a university at Grootfontein, near Cape Town; $500,000 to the Imperial College of Science and Technology at South Kensington; and $500,000 to various hospitals.

TIN KING DEPARTS TO TOUR THE WORLD IF IT TAKES YEARS

Bolivian Croesus Takes Family and Eleven Retainers—Three Crowded Liners Sail.

Three big transatlantic liners left New York to-day with a list of first-cabin passengers that is considered remarkable for a mid-week sailing.

The Victoria Louise of the Hamburg American line, led with 43 first-cabin passengers, which is nearly capacity. The Baltic of the White Star line had 39 and La Provence of the French line 19.

The Tin Plate King of Bolivia, R. L. Patino, one of the richest men in the world sailed on the Victoria Louise.

With him went a retinue like that of an Indian Prince. To wait on his wife, sister-in-law and their four children, the Tin Plate King had four secretaries, three valets and five maids.

His income is a trifle in excess of thirty millions a year. He is going to leave leisurely over the world, if it takes him years. His first stop is at Kiel for the regatta. The distinguished financier from South America was glad to get out of New York, being particularly annoyed by the water strike.

Also bound for the Kiel Regatta was Mrs. Robert E. Todd, who goes to meet her husband, Commodore Todd, of the New York Yacht Club, who is at Kiel with his yacht. They will spend the rest of the summer cruising about the coast of the Land of the Midnight Sun.

Emma Carus was another passenger on the Victoria Louise. She is going to meet her mother in Germany and later play at the Hippodrome in London.

"OPIUM" WAS DYNAMITE.

Secret Service Men Find Explosive and Safe-Blowers' Tools.

When Detective John Rotchford and members of the Secret Service went to the house of Louis Balletti, No. 1 Roosevelt street, early to-day they expected to find large quantities of opium that they had heard was stored in the house. Instead of the opium, however, a set of safe-blowers' tools, together with an eight-inch stick of dynamite and three fuses, was found.

Balletti was arrested and arraigned before Magistrate Kernochan in the Centre Street Police Court charged with violating Section 104 of the City Ordinance, which prohibits the possession of dynamite without a permit. He was held in $1,000 bail for examination.

The set of tools consisted of six drills, a brace, jimmy and files. With the dynamite and fuses was a dry battery. The dynamite was found in an extension of the attic in Balletti's house and the tools were taken from a child's room. For more than fifteen years Balletti has been a guide to tourists in Chinatown. He is commonly known as "Bink" Detective Rotchford told Magistrate Kernochan that he believed the guide had been prevailed upon to keep the tools and dynamite for a gang of safe-blowers and that he with other detectives had waited several hours in the vicinity of Balletti's house for the members to appear, but no one had come near the place.

GIRL TELLS HOW SHE MADE $50,000 OUT OF HOTEL TIPS

Rose Farrell, Who Married Policeman Duggan Last Night,
Invested in Real Estate.

Think of a girl who was able to save more than $2,000 from tips while acting as a hotel maid and being able to surprise her husband on their wedding night with the information that she was worth almost $50,000 as the result of judiciously investing the gratuities of a liberal public! This is what Rose A. Farrell of the Waldorf-Astoria was able to do after seven years of thrift and astute investing.

Rose Farrell received a small fortune checking hats and wraps. She invested it in real estate that doubled and trebled in value. Last night she and Policeman Joseph J. Duggan of the Eight Precinct were married and the bride informed her blue-coated hero that she had a fortune in her own name. Duggan knew that Miss Farrell had been saving money and that she owned some property at City Island, but he had no idea that her wealth ran into five figures. Duggan was almost flabbergasted.

Rose Farrell can well testify to the liberality of the travelling public. She and her six-foot husband to-day left their apartment at No. 213 West One Hundred and Fourteenth street for a week's honeymoon in the South. Before departing the bride told about her fortune gained from tips.

TIPS NOT LARGE, BUT THEY KEPT COMING.

"The tips were not so large," she said, "but I kept getting them all the time and I did what most girls don't know how to do—I saved. I received the greater part of my tips from women, and yet women are not supposed to be as generous as men. That is not so, for women who have money to spend spend it just as freely as men. Women appreciate favors a great deal more than men. I realized this years ago."

"As a rule women do not try to make the show that men do, but they do tip. Then you can do so much for a woman. Her dress needs a little fixing, she needs a pin or something, and when you assist her she remembers you. Women are as liberal as men in giving tips. I have had women hand me $5 and $10 bills for doing them favors. Tips of this size were the exception, however. I usually received 25 cents or even a dime."

"But the size of the tip was not the thing. I saved every cent I could. Most girls would have spent the money for clothes, but I was looking ahead and only spent what I had to. At first I put my money in a savings bank, and as it grew I began to buy property or invest in mortgages. It surprised me how fast my money began to grow."

"I never did stop saving. Some weeks my tips would amount to $20 or $25. Other weeks they did not go above $10, but I think I saved almost $25 a week on the average. I was careful all the time not to spend money thoughtlessly. I did not spend much for clothes, and the most of my dresses I made myself. Any woman can save money if she does not try to dress in the latest fashions and keep up with women who spend fortunes for clothes."

ESTIMATES HER FORTUNE AT $50,000.

Mrs. Duggan estimates that her fortune to-day, mostly in real estate on City Island and in the Bronx, will run close to $50,000.

"Five years ago she and Policeman Duggan, who was stationed near the Waldorf, became acquainted. Duggan had taken a great fancy to the blue-eyed, dark haired maid. He sought an introduction through another employee of the hotel, and shortly afterwards the couple were keeping 'steady company.' Duggan wanted to get married his own time ago, but one girl with the bent for saving wanted to assure herself that she had enough money to meet all emergencies before leaving her little gold mine."

On June 1 they went to the City Hall and took out a marriage license, and last night the couple went to St. Francis of Assisi's Catholic Church and were married by Father Naudier. Miss Marie McCarty was bridesmaid and John J. Kelly best man. Previous to her marriage Mrs. Duggan lived with her sister, Mrs. Louis Kfoury, at No. 84 Bay Street, City Island. Before his marriage Policeman Duggan made his home with his mother at No. 84 Eighth avenue.

To Erect Straus Memorial.
Plans are being perfected to erect a national Jewish temple in Astor Park as a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Isidor Straus, who went down with the Titanic. Last summer Mr. Straus, who was a summer resident of Elberon, presided at a meeting to consider plans for a temple and the movement is to be continued. The committee having the matter in charge comprises Jacob Katz and Isadore Schaffran of New York, and Mrs. E. Brylawski and Mrs. M. Sterne of Astor Park.

Mosquito Breeder Stung.
Judge York yesterday fined David Harris of Upper Montclair, N. J., $10 for allowing mosquitoes to breed on a low spot of land owned by him in Northfield avenue. The evidence against Harris was produced by inspectors employed by the Montclair Board of Health.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines. It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves, but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Why Not Go Into the Mail Order Business

Where is the logic in selling your services for $10 a week or even $100 a week, when you can make more money, with less work and less worry, conducting a business of your own? An opportunity of this kind came to me, and I accepted it. A similar opportunity is open to you, right now. And, no matter what line of work you are in, or are planning to enter, it should cause you to stop and think. When I started in the Mail Order Business I had only $5 IN CASH, but I had the RIGHT PLAN in my head. In five years I made $50,000, and established a permanent business. I will tell you how I did it, and how you should do it. I made more than this—I will help you. I don't know, of course, how much money you will make out of the business in the next five years—that depends VERY LARGELY on the amount of attention you give it. You may make even a better record than mine, or you may do only half as well; but do you know of any other opportunity that holds out such possibilities to you? Do this one thing for yourself—INVESTIGATE. Send to-day for my free booklet.

JERSEY RIOTERS SENT TO PRISON; TROUBLE FEARED

Score Given Year Each for Outbreak in Kearny—Courthouse Guarded.

Twenty of the striking laborers who have been participating in the recent riots and bloodshed in Newark and nearby New Jersey towns were sentenced to a year each in the Hudson County penitentiary to-day by Recorder Leonard A. Wimmer of Kearny. This was the extreme penalty. The convicted men had been arrested during the riot in Kearny on Monday, in which Chief of Police Tolen of Kearny had his skull crushed by a stone and in which two strikers were shot by the wounded chief.

The two women who led the mob in the riot in Newark yesterday, which resulted in the shooting to death of a high school boy, the mortal injury of a woman, the stabbing of a policeman and the shooting of four strikers, will be arraigned to-day and an extra force of policemen will be impressed into service in the vicinity of the court house. The situation has become so alarming that the police will from now on use the most drastic means to prevent the striking laborers from parading or gathering in force in any section of Newark.

Twenty-seven prisoners were arraigned before Recorder Wimmer in Kearny this morning. Policeman Bell, who was with Chief Tolen when the latter was stoned, appeared against the prisoners and picked out twenty as having participated in the riot. They were forthwith sentenced to a year each. None was represented by counsel.

BEAUTY SQUAD OF POLICE TO MAKE HAT PIN ARRESTS

Chicago Society Women to Enforce Ordinance Because Patrolmen Are Too Bashful.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Chicago is to have a "beauty squad" of women in the Police Department. Chief McWeney made this announcement to-day, after he learned that the policemen were "too bashful" to enforce the hatpin ordinance. "I will organize a 'beauty squad' of twenty attractive society and club women of Chicago to aid in the enforcement of the new ordinance," said the chief. "It appears that the great majority of the policemen are too bashful to enforce the ordinance which provides that women's hatpins shall not protrude more than half an inch from their hats."

To Connect Venice With Mainland.
VENICE, Italy, June 6.—The problem of communication between the city and the mainland is about to be solved by the construction of a tunnel under the lagoon with openings at St. Mark's Square and in the islands of Giudecca and Lido. The tube will be from seven feet to forty feet below sea level and will cost $2,000,000.

Mosquito Breeder Stung.
Judge York yesterday fined David Harris of Upper Montclair, N. J., $10 for allowing mosquitoes to breed on a low spot of land owned by him in Northfield avenue. The evidence against Harris was produced by inspectors employed by the Montclair Board of Health.
